Oh, this is madness. They are looking in dangerous places for the Tuning Fork, but I dare not tell them they are on the wrong path! One of the Brigands died to a Rotting Corpse, perhaps in time they will all die and I can be free! They have found nothing here and plan on moving south soon as they bury the fallen comrade, I fear what danger may be there, but hopefully it will force them to bury another one of their own!
